

CS 3110

Alex Sommer and Maddie Cripps

This problem set was a good amount longer than the first assignment (not a surprise), but was very fun because we learned a lot about how to use folding—though I didn't like it at first I must admit. We both worked on everything together although sometimes would work separately and push stuff to Git separately if we were busy.

Thanks, and looking forward to the next PS!